COMMUNITY CHURCHES ADD TO

Around the white pillars which add a traditional touch to the Christian Church, DHS students talk before a youth fellowship meeting.

The simplicity of the Friends Church provides for its members an atmosphere conducive to prayer.

In its quiet setting the newly constructed Bartlett's Chapel Methodist Church gives its youth an opportunity for worship and fellowship.

The recently built Methodist Church provides spiritual growth for its youth.

Amid the shadows of the surrounding trees, youth attend the Episcopal Church.

St. Mary's impressive Catholic Church stands quietly to offer a wonderful setting for worship.

THE SPIRITUAL GROWTH OF DHS STUDENTS

The Baptist Church offers religious training important in the molding of one's character and integrity.

The cross and open Bible quietly call those of the Presbyterian faith to worship.

Religious g u i d a n c e and thought-provoking ideas are a part of the program offered by the Christian Alliance Church.

Known for its beautiful design, the Church of the Nazarene is a place of worship for many people.

The Regular Baptist Church provides an opportunity for worship and prayer.

RECREATIONAL FACILITIES ADD SPICE TO DANVILLE

In the last few years the DHS students have had the pleasure of having three new recreational facilities come to Danville, which have helped to make Danville a better place for teenage activities.

The swimming pool is a summer time interest for anyone at any age. Swimming under the hot sun or just sunning at the picnic tables adds an enjoyable refresher to hot summer days. Penny Terry, Judy Rodney, and Mike Lynch sit at one of the picnic tables enjoying an interesting conversation.

The new bowling alley, Country Lanes, has added, many spur of the moment dates, as well as planned leagues for the teenagers. Here Jackie Frazier is keeping score for Tom Helton as he shows his skill at the game. Angela Newhart and Craig Widener wait anxiously for Tom's ever famous strike.

Golfing has become an interest for Danville's teenagers as well as its businessmen. Out for the exercise and a game of fun, Thad Cramer, Jolin Barnett, and Bruce Gilham wait while Kay King take the shot which will determine whether she will receive a bogey or a par score for the sixth hole.

YOUNG OR OLD

Miss Thomas's second graders sit quietly waiting to have their picture taken.

OUR PRESIDENT?

Craig Jay Widener our distinguised Senior Class President was not always that way. These pictures show Craig having a really good time in the big city.

The sixth grade brought the track meets. Sally Clark, Judy Rodney, and Etta Mae Stanley were the stars of our first meet.

THE CLASS OF '62

Mike Erp and Dick Mann rode our Homecoming float proudly during the parade in our junior year.

Here some of the girls eat a tasty breakfast?.

During our sophomore year, gatherings at Denny Wynn's were frequent Saturday night occurrences.

In the eighth grade, the girls in our class enjoyed many such croquet games.

WILL ALWAYS HAVE FUN

The sixth grade was a good year for the class of '62. Section one was under the direction of their teacher Ralph Wyand.

In the third grade we had our picture taken just before our annual outing and picnic.

Twelve Freshmen girls sit on the steps waiting for the party to begin.

When we were in our junior year we enjoyed a New Year's Eve Party.

Section two of the sixth grade class was led by Mr. Rank. The sixth grade was also the first time we had more than one teacher a day.

HARD WORK AND FUN

Noon-time also brings trips to the Dairy Queen, weather permitting, dancing in the grid-room and those unfinished conversations. Then it was time for the afternoon classes to begin. To the students the afternoon classes always seemed the longest and the most tiring. By the last period of the day everyone seems to have an unwillingness for cooperation and participation.

On the average of two days a week, at 3:15, the activity bell would rina for Activity Period. After making the decision of which meeting to attend you hurried to a meeting that sometimes was successful. Then at 3:29 the day was supposed to come to an end but for many it had only begun. The boys who participated in sports had to practice, the Tom Tom staff had to work, the energetic band students practiced and there were many clubs which met later on in the evening. After these late meetings DHS was put to bed for the night only to have the same rush begin the next morning.

The senior girls pose for one of their many practical jokes they pulled during their last year of high school.

The members of the dance band add high spirits and pep to the pep sessions.

Sophomore and junior girls were inducted into Tri-Hi-Y at the annual induction services.

OUR EFFICIENT DHS

A year at Danville High School brings to its students many days of hard work and fun. At 8:00 the first bell rings and the students are admitted for another day's work. At 8:10 everyone is found in their seats ready for the day to begin. Just about the time you get comfortable Mr. Cox's voice comes over the intercom making the announcements of the day, which were sometimes not heard or were misinterpreted. Then there was lunch count and attendance to be taken and the day officially began. Through the day students rushed to and from classes with their friends. You never really understood how you could talk about so much in those two and a half minutes you were running down the hall. By noon-time you're tired and exhausted and ready to eat whatever is put in front of you.

ENTHUSIASTIC SPIRIT IS CAPTURED

Our four varsity cheerleaders Jackie, Sally, Judy, and Suzie added the spirit the teams needed to complete a successful year. Here, the girls sit in a beautiful convertible waiting for the start of the Homecoming parade.

A happy team poses for a picture in the dressing room after winning the Wabash Valley Prelims.

The football season was composed of games that never lacked action. J. C. Burnell carrying the ball leads the action down the gridiron.

AT THE SPORTS EVENTS OF THE YEAR

This year the displaying of the National Emblem by the Teenerettes while the National Anthem is being played by the High School Band became a tradition and a very colorful sight. Here, at a basketball game during the Christmas season, the Teenerettes, dressed in their red and white outfits which add to the Christmas spirit, salute the flag.

For the special Christmas show, the Band played many special Christmas songs during the halftime. To climax the show the teenerettes and other students threw candy to the children in the crowd, as Santa came for his annual visit.

After the excitement of the games many students met in the Grid Room for an evening of fun and dancing. The merry laughter at the canteens will long be remembered by the DHS students.

LITERATURE STIMULATES THOUGHT

Mrs. Kraft explains some of the poetry lesson to her American literature class.

The English courses at DHS are taught by Mrs. Louise Dollens, Mrs. Mildred Hoge, Mrs. Jeanette Kraft, Miss Susan Page, Mrs. Mabel Pritchett, and Mr. Bill Kassis. In the four high school courses offered, training is given in speech, grammar, literature and composition. Through these courses, students at DHS develop a good background for future communication in both speech and composition.

SPEECH PUPILS GAIN CONFIDENCE THROUGH ACTIVITIES

One of the advanced speech classes listens attentively to Allen Disney's story.

The Speech Department, headed by Mrs. Mabel Pritchett and Miss Susan Page, strives for poise and better expression through speech activities. A preliminary course is required for sophomores, and the advanced speech classes are open to juniors and seniors. To accompany their study of parliamentary procedure, the advanced speech classes organized the Speech Club.

As a background for their production of a three-act farce "Accidental Hero," the advanced speech classes studied drama, stage etiquette, and stage make-up. Formation of the Thespian Troupe highlighted the year's activities. During the year the speech department sent its representatives to the Voice of Democracy Contest, the American Legion Contest, the Rotary Club Contest, the Purdue Assembly, and speech tournaments at Bloomfield and Jefferson of Lafayette.

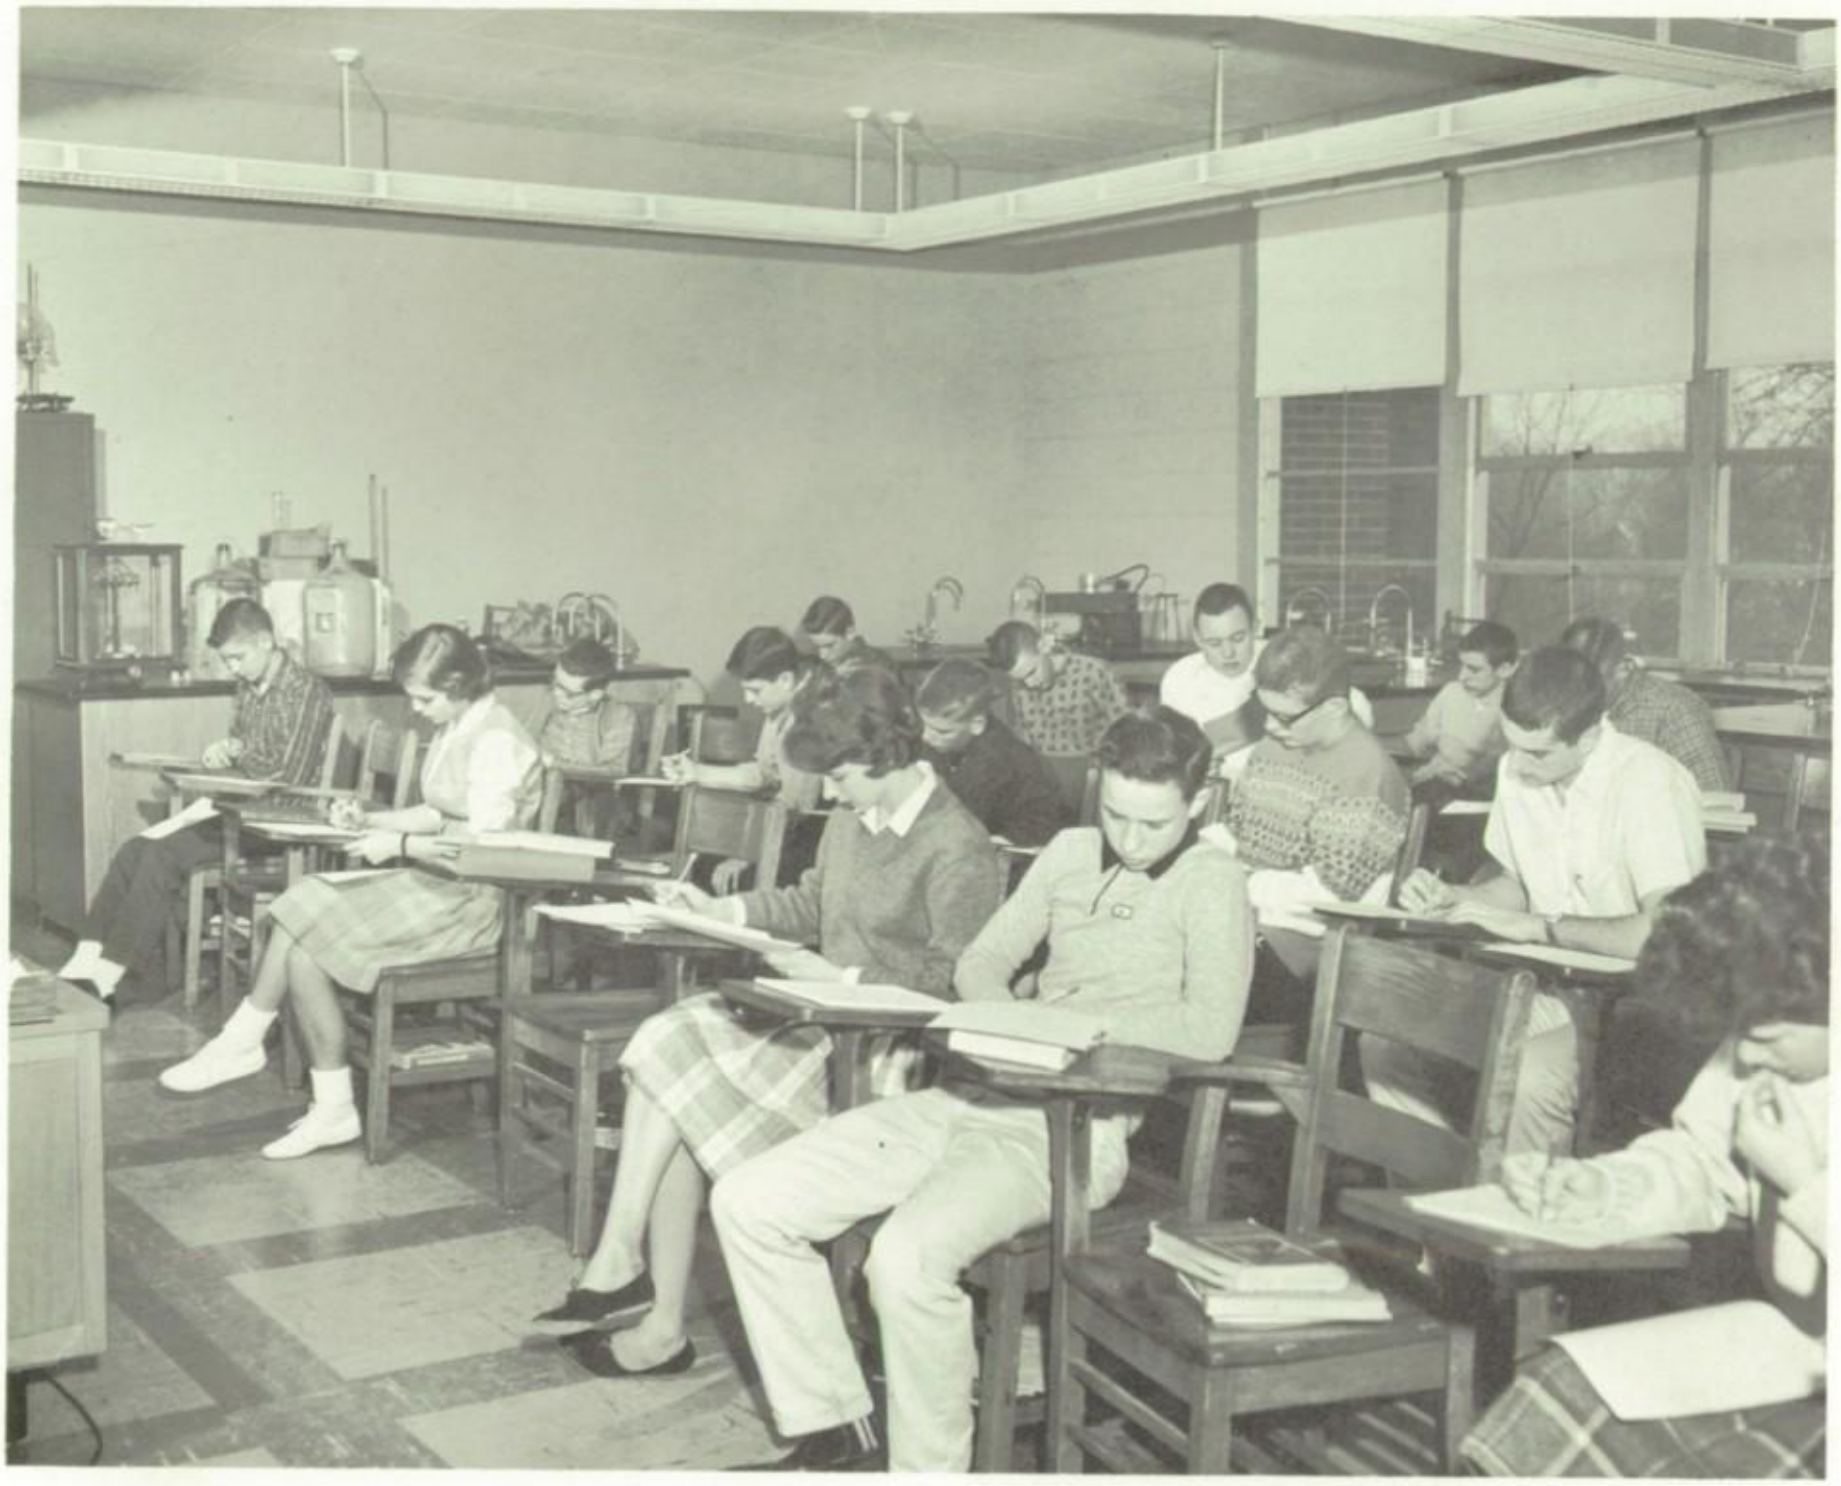
Those who represented DHS at the Purdue Assembly are, seated: J. Frazier, representative; M. Dollens, discussion group; J. Barnett, discussion group; S. Redford, extemporaneous speaker; J. Gill, alt. extemp. speaker; A. Cox, extemp. speaker. Standing: R. Williams, representative; C. Widener, senator; C. Bair, discussion group; B. Chasteen, alt. senator.

WE LEARN TO REASON THROUGH MATHEMATICS

Sally Sutherlin explains the proof of her problem to Mr. Cox's plane geometry class.

Factoring, percents, functions, identities, theorems — all of these are taught in the DHS math department by Mrs. Rosemary Helton, Mr. Calvin Benson, Mr. Ed Etienne, Mr. Russell Kirst, and Mr. Henry Cox. The program in this department is comprised of courses in general math, business arithmetic, Algebra I, Algebra II, plane geometry, solid geometry, and trigonometry.

SCIENTISTS IN THE MAKING



The sophomores in Mr. Kirts' physical science class work industriously in preparation for their six-week's test.

Mr. Robert Etienne, Mr. Max Gibbs, and Mr. Russell Kirts, with their competent teaching abilities in the science department at DHS, add many unforgettable moments to our school life. Four years of science are offered to the students in the areas of biology, physical science, chemistry and physics.

Mr. Kassis, Latin teacher, watches as Betty Jordan and Susan Ellis conjugate Latin verbs.

The Language Department, which includes Latin, headed by Mrs. Hoge and Mr. Kassis; Spanish, headed by Miss Keck strives to create an active interest in foreign languages. Language is important to students who wish to continue their education in colleges or universities.

Howard Conley, under the supervision of Miss Keck, Spanish teacher, shows the class how to conjugate a Spanish verb.

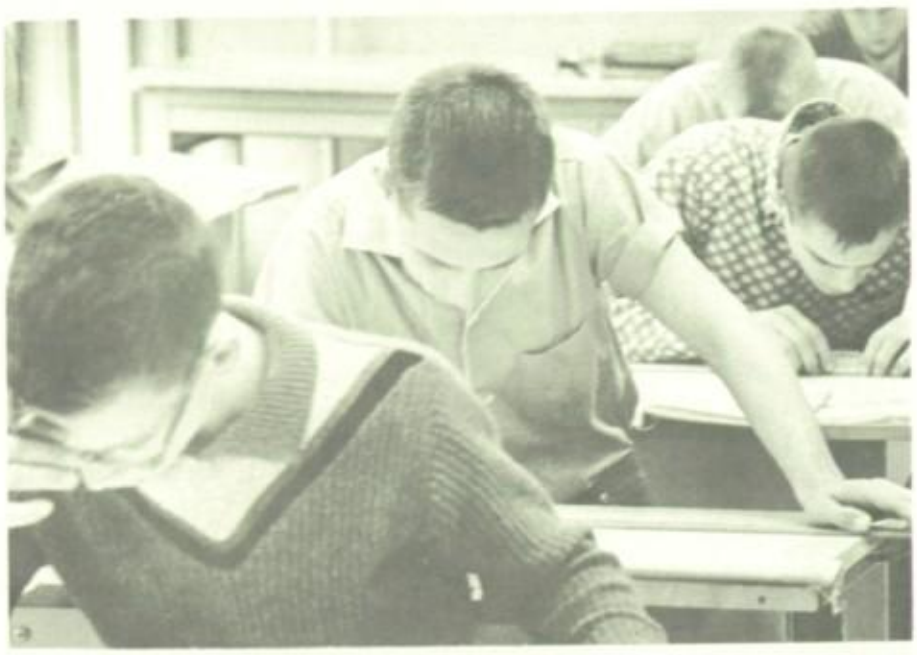
Mr. Benson makes government and sociology class as enjoyable as possible.

HISTORY PREPARES US FOR THE FUTURE

The history program at DHS includes courses in citizenship, world history, United States history, government, sociology, and eighth grade history. Pupils are taught about their country and the world by Mr. Burns Becht, Mr. Calvin Benson, Mr. Robert Leedy, and Miss Wanda Keck. This training is essential not only for graduation but for good citizenship in the future.

The fundamentals of World History are explained to the sophomores by Mr. Becht.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING OFFERED AT D. H. S.



The industrial arts program, headed by Mr. David Jones, is one of the favorites of the boys at DHS. These shop courses provide training for a future occupation or more knowledge of an interesting hobby.

The freshmen study industriously in mechanical drawing class.

All eighth grade boys participate in the activities of the eighth grade shop class, which is a preliminary course to the advanced high school training. Two years of shop and one year of mechanical drawing are offered to the high school boys. This year a printing press was added to the shop equipment.

Mr. Jones supervises the advanced shop class in its work.

Among the projects of Miss Stayner's home economics department were nutrition and foreign foods. The advanced class prepared dishes from Italy, France, Mexico, and Germany. The effects of poor diet were studied by the beginning class. In the experiment, six white mice were fed three different types of meals. At the end of the study, the two which had been fed the grade A meals had stayed healthy, while the other two pairs became undernourished.

STUDENTS EXERCISE THEIR TALENTS

The DHS Band prepares for band contest at Granville Wells.

With a song in their hearts and minds filled with music, the band and choirs have had a successful season under the direction of Lynn Jones.

The Choral Department prepares for their Spring Concert.

One of the good traditions of our high school is in the area of music, and we are proud of the accomplishments of the music department. We can look back with pride on the many fine activities of our band-choral department. Cervantes once said, "Where there is music, there can't be mischief." We don't know that this observation is one hundred per cent true, but we would certainly state that many of the students are better people because of their participation in DHS's music program.

Some of the music highlights for this year have been the Band Tasia Concert, the choir's Christmas Program and the combined tour of the stage band and robed choir. Also scheduled was a music contest at Granville Wells.

The art classes learn to express themselves through the creation of pictures, by working with oil paints, charcoal and different types of water colors. This year the art classes, under the direction of Mrs. Kraft, worked hard to complete their projects for the art display at the Public Library.

The art class completes their work for display at the Public Library.

STUDENTS DEVELOP BUSINESS FUNDAMENTALS

Mrs. Huffman watches and gives advice as the Bookkeeping II class prepares their practice sets.

The DHS business department provides for its pupils an educational foundation in the understanding of business fundamentals. This department helps stimulate the appreciation of the total structure and the civic and the social obligation of the American businessman. The students, through efficient direction, develop the ability to make wise business decisions and are trained in their desired area; such as bookkeeping, typing and shorthand. DHS has the advantage of having well qualified teachers in all areas and our business department under the direction of Mrs. Huffman, Mrs. Gilham, Mrs. Miller, and Mr. Benson, is no exception.

PHYSICAL ED. AND DRIVERS' ED. BREAK MONOTONY

At DHS, physical education is required for every student during the freshman and sophomore years. This year these classes were taught by Mrs. Louise Dollens, Mrs. Marian Miller, Mr. Bob Etienne, Mr. Max Gibbs, and Mr. Bob Pedigo.

The background obtained in physical education classes provides many boys with the desire and ability to participate in the competitive team sports at DHS. In these classes, the boys learned the rules of different games and sports along with the all-important sportsmanship.

Mr. Bob Pedigo supervises a game of basketball !

The eighth grade girls enjoy a game of kickball during physical education class.

The girls' department taught every girl the skills of archery, badminton, volleyball, and basketball — to name a few. With the knowledge of these skills came the ability to get along with others and to build confidence and character.

In today's emphasis on safe driving, learning to drive is one of the common objectives of many students at Danville. Along with the essential control of the car itself in operation, the students in Mr. Gibbs' driver education classes require the practical knowledge, such as how to change a tire and what goes on under the hood.

LONG-REMEMBERED MOMENTS ARE CAPTURED BY THE MANY ACTIVITIES AT DHS

Our dances, athletic events, plays, music productions, and academic competition provide an indispensable part of a well-rounded education at DHS. The frequent gatherings at pep sessions, basketball games, concerts, speech tournaments, and academic contests help to create whole personalities in the pupils. The ever-present setting provides variation for the development of the multi-personality of the student body.

Jane Cummins, junior; Lynn Chapman, sophomore; Queen Linnea; Marcia Dollens, senior; and Suzie Glover, football candidate, were a main attraction at the dance.

FRESHMAN QUEEN LINNEA

The seniors "smelled a victory" and got one for their hard work on the winning float.

Seniors, Marcia Dollens and Suzie Glover, await the announcement of the Homecoming Queen during the half-time of the game.

REIGNED OVER HOMECOMING

Although Speedway's Sparkplugs edged a narrow margin over the Hard-fighting Danville Warriors, a good time was enjoyed during the Week's Homecoming activities. The parade, the float competition, voting for the queen, the dance and the alumni coffee hour were highlights of the week. Floats were entered in the competition by each class and, as a reward for the effort put into them, they were all a part of the pre-game parade. The senior's sixteen-foot skunk with a deodorized spray won a plaque for first prize. With the theme "Don't Bug Us" portrayed by a can of Raid, the freshmen took honorable mention. The junior's theme "Smear 'Em" was characterized by a huge hot-dog, a jar of mustard, and a bottle of catsup. The sophomore's float carried a washing machine and the motto "Clean 'Em."

Don Wright, John Jenner, and Ken Edmondson see action in the Homecoming game with Speedway.

FRESHMEN WELCOMED TO DHS

The Freshmen and Seniors gaze at the Blue Moon, while they await the start of the dance.

The Seniors and Freshmen danced the first dance to the theme song "Blue Moon."

UNDER THE SPARKLING BLUE MOON

Anna Cox, senior, introduces Norman Blum and Don Hoge to DHS.

Sue Pierson, Senior Class secretary, welcomes Pam Davis, Freshman Class secretary, into high school.

With breathless anticipation, the Freshmen awaited their turn to be welcomed to DHS. As the band played, the gym was illuminated with a glitter of color under the sparkling blue moon.

Following the introduction of Freshmen by the Seniors, Craig Widener and Jim Lynch gave the welcome and acceptance speeches. Jim thanked the seniors for the lovely reception, and then added that since he was president of a class of "nobodies" he was the "biggest nobody of them all."

As the seniors and freshmen danced the night away to the music of the Jack Heldreath band, many a freshmen could say that this was a night which they would never forget and could later add to their pleasant memories of DHS.

Mike Lynch, senior, is shown with Diane Weaver at the Freshman Reception.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVITIES BEGIN WITH ANNUAL CHRISTMAS DANCE

Snow Queen candidates Penny Terry, Judy Rodney, Janet Stephenson, and Marcia Dollens await the crowning of the queen by Art Bryant, Hi-Y President.

Art Bryant, Hi-Y president, crowned Penny Terry, Snow Queen, at the halftime of the Danville-North Salem basketball game. This year, for the first time, all of the Snow Queen candidates were from the Senior Class. The Hi-Y and the Tri-Hi-Y sponsored the Christmas Record Hop after the game with disc jockey, Ron Carroll, from WIRE spinning the records.

"DUTCH TREAT" IS PROVIDED AT SWEETHEART DANCE

On February 10, the annual G.A.A. sponsored Sweetheart Dance was held in the Washington Street Gymnasium. The four senior candidates for King of All Young Hearts were Fred Mertz, Denny Rader, Les Rammel, and Jack Vannice.

At the close of the suspenseful evening, G.A.A. president Karon Lange crowned Les Rammel "King of All Young Hearts."

JUNIORS PRESENT AN EVENING OF "APRIL LOVE"

The Nick Craig Orchestra provided music for the annual Junior-Senior Reception at the Marott Hotel.

The juniors twisted to the music provided by the Nick Craig Orchestra.

Mr. Benson and Mr. Kassis and their dates seem to be enjoying themselves at the Reception.

TO HONOR THE SENIORS

After dinner the couples at the Speakers' Table Becky Poynter, Vice-President; Terry Chandler, Howard Conley, President; Karon Lange, Ed Rose, Toastmaster; and Judy Gill, Treasurer; await the activities of the evening.

John Jenner added variety to the dance by providing entertainment during an intermission.

Friday the thirteenth proved to be, not unlucky, but glamorous to the juniors and seniors for their annual reception held April 13. The Marble Ballroom of the Marott Hotel was the scene of the dinner-dance. Music for the evening was provided by Nick Craig and his band. In addition to the traditional souvenir programs, a red key with a "D" engraved on it was given to each one present.

Toastmaster for the evening was Ed Rose, junior. Other speakers were Mr. Henry Cox, principal; Howard Conley, junior class president; and Craig Widener, senior class president.

FRIARS

STUDENTS ENJOY AN EVENING IN "SHANGRI-LA"

The 29th annual May Prom, Saturday, May 12, was highlighted by the crowning of May Queen, Suzie Glover, by Robin Hood, Jack Vannice. May Queen, Robin Hood, members of the Court, and students danced to the music provided by "The Headliners."

Shades of yellow and orange, together with fans, parasols, and lanterns created the oriental atmosphere of the theme which was "Shangri-La".

Robin Hood, May Queen, and members of the Court dance to the music provided by "The Headliners."

CLUB MEMBERS LEARN

Here Jackie Frazier uses some of her speech class training in applying make-up.

Speech Club sponsor and play director, Mrs. Pritchett, taught her students stage etiquette, voice projection, and the art of applying make-up.

The speech students worked long, hard hours in perfecting the play. Here, the First-Act cast goes through dress rehearsal.

ACTING IS HARD WORK

Bashful Jim Monniger gets a taste of romance in a tender love scene with Judy Gill.

On March 30 the newly-formed Speech Club produced as its first project a three-act farce within a farce, "Accidental Hero." In the play, educational frills is an issue of the school board election campaign. To convince the community of the usefulness of extra-curricular activities, a group of high school students set out to put on a successful play. Although the leading man has to build a contest chicken house during play rehearsals, along with other problems, the play is a success and there is "a landslide for the frills in education."

With the help of their Speech Club sponsor, Mrs. Mabel Pritchett, the cast of twenty-five members and the stage and make-up crews learned not only the techniques of acting but also those of make-up, costuming, lighting, and scenery.

The four PTA women who knew it all were played by Betsy Hoge, Jolin Barnett, Kitty Vannice, and Anna Cox.

Howard Conley, Steve Gilbreath, and Ed Rose were perfectly cast as the Happy Haulers who liked singing better than they did work.

HARD WORK DURING THE YEAR

After presenting Skipp Kropp with the freshman award to Band Camp, Mr. Lynn Jones presents State Band and Choral plaques to Mr. Henry Cox.

Bill McCord receives the Epsilon Sigma Alpha award from Mrs. Juanita Honey.

Mrs. Geraldene Huffman presents the Commerce awards to the Bookkeeping students.

Betsy Hoge presents to Mr. Cox the All-American Award won by the Pow Wow Staff.

PAYS OFF AT AWARD NIGHT

Angela Newhart presents to Mr. Cox a typing trophy won by Kathie Record and her at the Bainbridge State Invitational Commerce Contest.

Mrs. Jean York, representing Kappa, presents the Nathalie Wheeler award to seniors Chyrl Stewart and Hal Underhill.

Howard Conley, junior class president, presents Mr. Etienne, junior class sponsor, with a gift certificate as a token of their appreciation.

Mrs. Louise Dollens, cheerleader advisor, presents charm bracelets to Varsity Cheerleaders Sally Sutherlin, Jackie Frazier, Judy Rodney, and Suzie Rodney.

HONORS GIVEN TO GOOD CITIZENS

Seniors Betsy Hoge, Ken Edmondson, and Louie Edmondson and junior, Becky Parsons attended the Quaker Seminar in New York City. The students were sponsored by the Danville Friends Meeting.

The annual Betty Crocker "Homemaker of Tomorrow" award was won by Suzy Head. Suzy was awarded a pin and her paper was entered in the state finals.

Senior Marcia Dollens received the DAR Good Citizen award. This award is given on the basis of service, leadership, patriotism, and scholarship.

STUDENTS LEARN GOVERNMENT

Hoosier Girls' State was held July 1 through July 9 on the Indiana University Campus. Over nine hundred girls, in Towers Center, spent that week learning about government. DHS delegates and their sponsors were: Marcia Dollens, Epsilon Sigma Alpha; Jackie Frazier, Tri Kappa; and Chyrl Stewart, American Legion Auxiliary; Betsy Hoge, Associate Tri Kappa. Alternates for Girls' State were: Anna Cox, Angela Newhart, and Kathie Record.

Sponsors for Boys' State were: American Legion, Optimist Club, and Rotary Club. Attending Boys' State, June 17 to 24 were Mike Lynch, Craig Widener, and Rockwell Williams. Transfer student Les Rammel attended Buckeye Boys' State in Ohio. Alternates from Danville were Ken Edmondson, Jim Monninger, and Hal Underhill. Because Hal was planning a trip to Europe, Mike Lynch was chosen to take his place.

PUPILS SHOW THEIR TALENTS

Here we have the entire cast after a hard evening of work. Standing: Susan Jones, Suzie Glover, Jolin Barnett, Anna Cox, Suzy Head, Penny Terry, Marcia Dollens, Kay King, Judy Rodney, Angela Newhart, Carol Piper, Jane Hadley. Seated: Tom Eggers, Ken Sale, Janet Stephenson, Chyrl Stewart, John Jenner, and Linda Bowen.

Denny Wynn plays some real cool music for his "Southern Friends."

On October 31 students of DHS presented the Vaudeville Show at the annual PTA Halloween Festival. A variety of acts from the blues to a one-act skit presented by ten senior girls and two senior boys was presented. Other acts were a sleepy duet by Suzie Glover and Susan Jones, a dance to the blues by Carol Piper and Jane Hadley, a pantomime by Tom Eggers, and a baton performance by Linda Bowen.

IN THE ANNUAL VAUDEVILLE

Suzie Glover and Susan Jones took the audience to "Dream Land" with their version of "Mr. Sandman."

Senior Girls? No, definitely not. These two senior boys added spice and comedy to the senior girls' skit.

Senior class members dramatized the skit "The Poor Old Lady Who Swallowed A Fly."

THE MODERN CINDERELLAS

The 1962 Home Economics Style Show was one that will be long remembered by all. The evening started with a short skit given by three senior girls, who represented the "Modern Cinderella," her impatient and work-demanding mother, and the fairy godmother who kept up with modern day styles. Cinderella's fairy godmother offered her clothes for school wear, sports wear, and evening wear, which were worn by the girls of the different Home. Ec. classes. To climax the evening Cinderella was dressed in a beautiful dress presented to her by her fairy godmother.

At left, Suzie Gilbert, on behalf of the Home Ec. girls, presented Miss Stayner with a gift certificate to show their appreciation for her guidance and help during the year.

Here (at right) we have three senior girls who used their speech training to help them do a marvelous presentation. Betsy Hoge was Cinderella's mother, Marcia Dollens was the "Modern Cinderella," and Jackie Frazier was Cinderella's fairy godmother.

DISPLAY SCHOOL, SPORTS, AND EVENING WEAR

No, Cinderella wasn't seeing double when her fairy godmother presented a dress for every occasion; she saw the Lange twins, Karon and Sharon, dressed in their beige sheath dresses.

For an evening under the stars Cinderella was shown in this beautiful gown worn by Dianne Kreighbaum. Dianne's escort was another senior, Russ Edmondson.

For the ride in her dream convertible Cinderella was shown a beautiful dress modeled by Janet Dinsmore.

Cinderella was shown this sport ensemble modeled by Mary Jane Peyton.

THE LONG-AWAITED GRADUATION

The Danville High School Robed Choir, under the direction of Mr. Lynn Jones, provided very enjoyable music during the Baccalaureate Service.

Seventy-five graduating seniors attended Baccalaureate Service, May 20, at the Danville Christian Church.

The PTA Scholarship and the Butler Scholarship were awarded to senior Betsy Hoge.

George Davis, from Purdue University, spoke to the seniors at the Commencement exercises.

Seniors Bill Maddux and Mary Peyton walk in to the music "Crowning Glory" provided by the high school band.

EXERCISES FINALLY ARRIVE

Bruce Gilham receives the Demolay Mothers' Circle scholarship as Speaker George Davis and Superintendent Merrill Vaughan look on.

Valedictorian Chyrl Stewart receives an Earlham scholarship.

Craig Widener was awarded the Tri-Kappa Scholarship.

Jackie Frazier received a state scholarship to Ball State Teachers' College.

Penny Terry receives her diploma from Merrill Vaughan, Superintendent.

The DHS student body has the privilege of having many worthwhile organizations in their extra-curricular activities. In these organizations the students have fellowship with other students who have the same interests as themselves. This year another organization was added for the benefit of those students who are interested in speech and drama. The DHS Speech Club added a touch of culture to the student activities.

'62 IS ENRICHED WITH

The D.H.S. Band under the excellent direction of Lynn Jones is designed to perform three functions. It educates its own students, furnishes music for the school, and aids in community and civic events.

To its own membership it aids in musical education, gives an appreciation of fine music and develops skills in individual performance.

To the school it gives music for any occasion during the entire year. The convocation and ball-games are enlivened by its music while the Color Guard adds dignity to the opening ceremonies. The marching band is a part of the fall football season with its colorful half-time shows. Its spirited music is a morale builder to all.

The Stage Band, for the second consecutive year, went on tour performing at neighboring high schools. They also brought another honor to D.H.S. with their well-earned first division at District Ensemble Contest. In the words of their judge, "They play like professionals."

SENIORS BAND MEMBERS FEATURED AT MUSICAL PRODUCTION

At eight o'clock, May 18, in the Bosstick Gymnasium, the curtain rose for the third annual Senior Concert presented by the Danville High School Band. To their delight, the audience found themselves seated in a sidewalk cafe for an "Evening in Paris." To add to the atmosphere of the evening, the gym was decorated in orange and white crepe paper and the ceiling was a float of orange and white parachutes. The audience was seated at card tables with checkered tablecloths, and had the privilege to view a sidewalk art exhibit constructed by the DHS art classes. The band selections, the atmosphere, and the expert music from the stage band during intermission brought about an evening of fun, entertainment, and enjoyment for all.

Three years ago the concert began as a way of saying thanks to the students who have participated in the band program from elementary school through high school and are now seniors. In 1962 Senior Band Concert honored nine seniors who totaled 20% of the band. This year's honored seniors were: Linda Bowen, Anna Cox, Marcia Dollens, Donna Jones, Kay King, Sherry Redford, Judy Rodney, Ruth Sexton, and Bruce Gilham.

Allen Disney adds to the Paris atmosphere by painting at the sidewalk art exhibit.

The Dance Band entertains the audience during intermission.

A DHS FILLED WITH PEOPLE

Life at DHS provides an opportunity to learn the ways of others. Through our associations with the administration, faculty, classmates, and even athletic and academic opponents, we obtain the attributes for future success. DHS, through our Exchange Student Program, College Night, the County Music Activities, and our student body assemblies, gives its pupils the opportunity to meet not only young people from the immediate area, but also people from around the world.

THROUGH THE GUIDANCE

Comprising the school board this year were Ruth Jones, Secretary; Bob Barnett, Howard Conley, Hugh Weaver, President; Hursel Disney, Lee Himsel, and Merrill Vaughan, Superintendent.

MERRILL D. VAUGHN

RUTH JONES

Throughout the year it has been the duty of the school board, led by its president, Hugh Weaver, to meet and decide on important matters concerning the school, its student body, and the faculty. These decisions have made possible numerous improvements in the school system. The time and effort donated by these devoted men are much appreciated.

Busy with duties of Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Vaughan is always willing to give a helpful hand no matter what the situation. Although his job requires a stern attitude, Mr. Vaughan provides a personality that the students with their problems need.

Even though faced with a new face, personality, and person every hour of the day, Ruth Jones meets each person with an open hand and a friendly smile.

BUS DRIVERS, COOKS, AND JANITORS MAINTAIN SAFETY, NUTRITION AND CLEANLINESS

Transporting students to school are bus drivers Mrs. Disney, Roy Disney, Lyman Burnell, Floyd Jennings, Maurice Wood, James Burnell, Audrey Cain, and Gene Ware.

Throughout the year, the students seem to forget the people who maintain the building, cook the cafeteria meals, and provide a smoothly-run school. Nevertheless, they are appreciated, and a part of the school's reputation is due to these people. Spending innumerated hours at work, the custodians provide a clean building of which we can be very proud. The cafeteria staff provides well-balanced meals for students and teachers, and the bus drivers, transporting students in all kinds of weather, perform their duties faithfully. To these people we gratefully extend our thanks.

Preparing the meals for the students are Ophelia Mitchell, Margaret Lynch, Hazel Slater, Helen Mitchell and Chloe Morgan.

School custodians Mr. Stanford, Mr. Chasteen, and Mr. Hadley keep our school in good, clean condition.

SEVENTY-FIVE SENIORS RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

With many wonderful memories, our senior class attended its final activity as a part of Danville High School — our commencement. As we look back on our four years of high school, there are many unforgettable moments of our times, both good and bad, at DHS. As we continue on our separate roads to success, we hope that our memories of these moments will enable us to achieve that success. Our "good-by" to DHS will also be a "thank-you" for all we have learned from both our own experiences and from our academic study.

DHS PROVIDES A

Adding many unforgettable moments to our last year at DHS was Hendrik Aertsen. Henk, Danville's second exchange student, who made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Rome Osborn. Both at school and in our extra-curricular activities, Henk joined in with his own bit of fun-loving personality.

Although his illness immediately after his arrival caused him to miss many of our first senior activities, Henk didn't miss Marcia Dollen's picnic at which he was guest of honor.

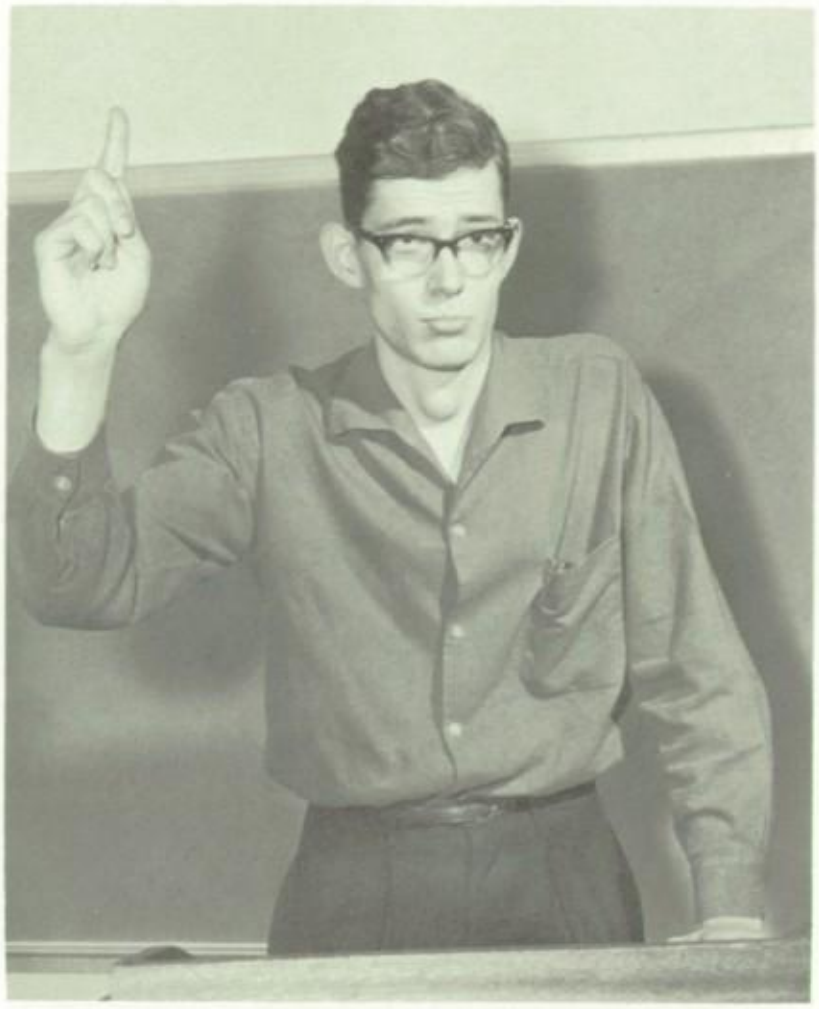
During the year Henk's attendance at the Purdue Assembly, his help with the Speech Club Play, his wonderful job as Speech Club Secretary, his informative talks in speech class and his participation in many extra-curricular activities are all among our fondest memories of DHS.

In May, Henk, along with the other seniors, participated in the graduation ceremonies receiving an honorary diploma.

With our appreciation for your helpfulness and kindness, we now dedicate this small part of our yearbook to you, Henk. We wish, too, all the success possible for you in your future at University of Amsterdam and in your later life in the Netherlands.

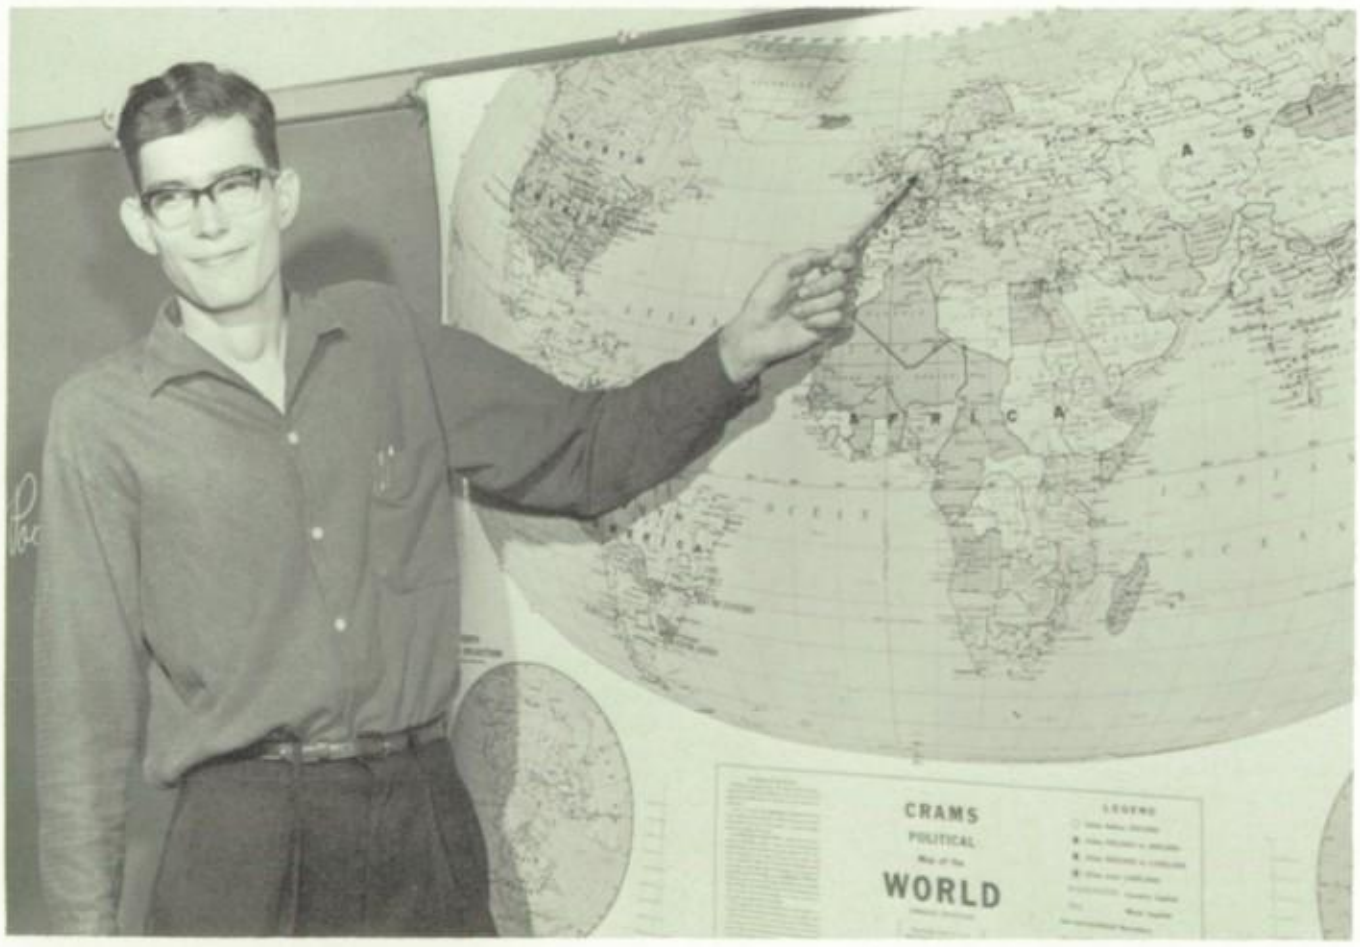
Before Baccalaureate Services Henk talks to other members of the Senior Class about his plans for the future.

YEAR FOR HANK



Speech scares the Danville students but Henk had the nerve to take this course. During the year he gave speeches about the things he knew best and he also enjoyed many outings with his fellow classmates.

Henk joined the speaker's table at the annual Publication's Banquet where he told the people something about the publications in Holland. He also told us many things about TV and his social life.



Henk told the government classes many things about his homeland and he also added to the discussion many different topics.

The Community in which our school is located contributes vitally to our existence. The enthusiasm of the merchants and citizens over the activities of the school reflects their growing interest in the cultural aspects of their city. And the increasing support that we, as an institute of higher learning, receive from the citizens of our community encourages us to continue in our wholehearted pursuit of knowledge. To the merchants and citizens we extend our gratitude.
